CALLS FOR FEDERAL AID.

Leuisiana Asks Uncle Sam to Take Charge of the Yellow Fever Situation.

NEW OBLEANS, Aug. 4 .- At a meeting eld at the New Orleans Cotton Exchange to-day, at which there were present Mayor Behrman, Judge Saunders, representing Gov. Blanchard, and committees from the Cotton Exchange, Stock Exchange, Board of Trade, Clearing House, Progressive Union, Sugar Exchange, the Mechanics. Dealers and Lumbermen's Exhange, Auction Exchange, New Orleans Merchants and Manufacturera' Association, the Or-leans Parish Medical Society, the president of the New Orleans Board of Health, the City Attorney, Dr. White of the United States Marine Hospital Service and others, a resolution was adopted calling upon the United States to take charge of the fever and quarantine situation. The following was Resolved, That this meeting indorse the proposition to ask the United States Government to take control of the yellow fever situation in New Orleans and that the Govnor of the State and the Mayor of the city be requested to take immediate steps to carry this promosition into effect. Further, that the overnments. State and city health boards parish medical society and of the merchants and people generally be pledged in such action as may be taken by the Government.

Mayor Behrman declared that he strongly favored the action taken, and that he, as Mayor, would surrender any power over the municipality to the Federal Government necessary to carry out the purpose of the resolution, or would give any assistance to the Government the city could give.

The resolutions were telegraphed to Gov. Blanchard at Baton Rouge. It is understood that the action taken meets with his full approval. He will probably officially convey the resolution to President Roose-

This action has been under consideration from the first, and several petitions were signed a week ago to that effect. There was a disposition not to act prematurely but to see whether the health authorities of the Southern States could not be induced to act together in an intelligent quarantine to stamp out the fever, or, if stamping out were impossible at once, to prevent the noralization and inhumanity of shotgun quarantines. At first it looked as though that was possible, but within a week the old panic seized on the people in many localiand since then the situation has gone m had to worse. It is believed, therefore, that the time has come to ask for action on the part of a disinterested authority like the Federal Government to intervene like the Federal Government to intervene between the bitterness and prejudices of State and county lines and to secure peace.

The disease so far has been almost exclusively Italian, and the efforts of the health authorities, national, State and city, have been to keep it within the original infected Italian quarters. Cases have occurred in some thirty other parts of the city, but all clearly traceable to the Italian quarters, being persons who had their places of ter, being persons who had their places of business there or who had fied thence to healther sections. These so-called new foci have been watched with the greatest care to prevent the sparks from starting new fires. Twenty days is the time allowed to determine this matter. An investigation to-day showed that in only three instances has the fever spread to secondary cases. This is encouraging in one respect, but discouraging in another, for it has shown that the health officers have been unable to restrict the officers that the discouraging to the control of the second to the control of the contr to its original territory, as they had d to do. The fight, however, is being soped to do. Ine night, however, is being sept up as energetically as ever, and will be kept up with the idea of holding down the fever if it be found that it is impossible at this late day to stamp it out altogether.

There is planty of course of the co There is plenty of courage and energy here, a good spirit prevails, and there is ample money and an abundance of workers, for there were probably never as many people remaining in New Orleans during e summer as are here to-day. ere are some refugees, more peopl turned to New Orleans since the

The Shreveport and Alexandria quarantines have suspended the Louisiana Railroad and Navigation Company's lines and have shut off Grant, Red River and Sabine from the world. Probably one fifth of Louisiana is to-day without mail service, and in more than half the State in consequence of the quarantines and the taking off of trains the postal service is in a crippled and thoroughly demoralized condition. Towns within walking distance of New Orleans are further removed, in point of mails and news, than Boston. The Calcasieu and Rapides quarantines have also shut off the Southern Pacific and Texas and Pacific, and have thus closed up all travel from or through New Orleans to the West, to Texas and to the

THE FEVER RECORD.

Forty-three New Cases in New Orleans Yesterday and Five Deaths.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 4.- The yellow fever record for to-day in New Orleans is: New cases, 43; deaths, 5, three of them Italians. The Marine Hospital physicians here estimate that it will cost close to a million dollars to crush out the fever now. Four deaths from yellow fever occurred in Jefferson parish to-day, two at Wells wood and two at Westwago, all italians. A new case was reported on Bell plantation, in the same parish.

BIG COTTON MILL STRIKE NEAR. Demands of English Employees for Increase in Wages Refused.

Special Cable Despatch to The Sun.

London, Aug. 4.—A strike of cotton operatives seems to be certain. Representatives of the Federation of Master Spinners met in Manchester to-day and decided to appeal to all employers to resist unanimously the demand of the operatives for a 5 per cent, increase in wages, on the ground that the condition of the industry does not warrant an advance. The federation of July 30 sent a letter under a flag of truce to the Japanese commanding of the Russian, who were pursued southward on July 29. The report goes on:

Optimism of Gen. Linievitch Said to Have Influenced the Emparor-Plans Made for a Stubborn Defensive Campaign in Hope of Wearing Out the Enemy. Special Cable Despatches to THE SUN. ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 4 .- The reform eaders, having received convincing information from Peterhof that the Czar is determined to continue the war, owing to Gen. Liniavitch's optimism, have notified his Majesty of their conviction that peace ought to be secured.

They regard themselves as a regularly constituted opposition to the existing Gevernment, and accordingly register their disapproval of the decision of his Majesty's present advisers.

The General Staff to-day indicates the nature of the campaign that it is expected will be carried on as soon as the rains in Manchuria are over. Gen. Such an immense line is unprecedented in the world's history. It is seriously troubling Gen. Linievitch to retain effective control of his communications and to maintain them.

RUSSIANS NOT FOR PEACE. Feeling in the Capital That the Conference Will Be Fruitless.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN PARIS, Aug. 4.-The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Matin telegraphs that a feeling amounting to certainty exists in the Russian capital that the conference between the Russian and Japanese peace plenipotentiaries will be broken off at the outset. An official report has been received from Japanese headquarters in the island giving the particulars of the surrender. It narrates an attack by an independent col-officer from Gen. Liapnoff, the Russian Governor, saying that lack of bandage material and medicines and consequent inability to succor the wounded compelled him from a sense of humanity to terminate hostilities.

"The commander of the Japanese force replied, demanding the delivery of all war supplies and property of the Russian Government, uninjured, and all maps, records and papers relating to the Russian civil and military administration, and requiring a reply at 10 o'clock on the morning of July 31. Otherwise an attacking movement would be started immediately.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—The Evening Standard, in a leader headed "The Musketeers of them was of the vaguest. Now we know them better. We know their bravery and we know their chivalry. Our prisoners in Japan are sending back word of the kindness of their treatment, of the generosity and amisbility of the Japanese people with whom they have come in contact. This has made a great impression upon the Russian people. The Russian people would welcome a peace established on such terms that they could become friends with a people whom they have learned to respect so much. That is what I meant by the inquiry as to the possibility of future friendship between the two peoples.

He had been smoking from ten to fifteen daily and the withdrawal of this stimulant caused his death. He would have died ultimately from cigarette smoking, but death was hastened by withdrawing them at this time." The Japanese had no guard.

Events proved that a guard was necessary for the Russians, for at Glen Cove two burly fellows of suspicious mien attempted to shoulder their way into the car of the envoys. The porter and the detectives threw them off.

Even the Oyster Bay population appreciated the importance of the visit and far larger crowd gathered to see Mr. Witte than Baron Komura drew. There were more photographers, too. The detectives piloted the envoys through the crowd, and once within the sanctuary of the President's carriage, into which Baron Rosen insisted that his senior muse enter first, Baron Rosen turned on his pursuers and said: "No, no; nothing to say," as he ordered Julius, the colored coachman, to go on.

Half a dozen camera men from New York were lined up on the starboard of the carriage. As the party was about to move they took rapid aim and snapped. Julius drove rapidly up the village street and was soon on the road to Sagamore Hill, bordered on both sides with hedgerows and old country houses. Mr. Witte leaned placidly back in his carriage and gazed on the scene with interest. But Baron Rosen had blood in his eye. He was mad Rosen had blobd in his eye. He was mad clean through at the photographers. He fidgeted in his seat beside the big man. "It's an outrage," he finally burst out to the defenceless Secret Service man on the box. "Those photographers should be stopped." Mr. Witte smiled placidly and said nothing.

The President greeted the envoys cordially and they talked much together both before and after luncheon concerning the peace negotiations. On the whole all seemed hopeful.

Shortly before the 4:20 train pulled out the envoys were driven up to the station and found even a larger crowd than when they arrived. Quite the pick of Oyster Bay had to come to see them off. The Secret Service man dispersed the camera brigade.

"Can you tell us anything," he was asked by a reporter in his own language. Mr. Witte smiled placidly, but before he could say a word Baron Rosen seemed almost on the point of putting his hand on the big man's mouth. "Niet, niet," he snapped in his fidgety manner; "nothing to say," big man's mouth. "Niet, niet," he snapped in his fidgety manner; "nothing to say." Then Mr. Witte shook his head slowly and entered the car, which was promptly locked by the porter. Mr. Witte gazed out of the window and the Oyster Bayites gazed back. But Baron Rosen seemed uneasy. He wanted to shut off even that method of communication. When the train started Mr. Witte took off his hat and politely bowed to the offowd.

OTSTER BAY, Aug. 4.-Two Coreans, soft speech and gentle of manner, called on the President to-day to "lay at his feet" a memorial of their countrymen, who don't want to be left out in the approaching peace negotiations.

One of the Coreans, P. K. Yoon, is a Methodist Episcopal minister at Honolulu. He said he had a letter from Secretary Taff Syngman Rhee, has been a student in this country. Both think no lasting peace can come in the Far East unless Corean in-dependence is recognized. They say Corea wishes to be neither Russian nor Japanese, They presented their memorial which

The President told them he could not so-cept their memorial unless it came through diplomatic channels and he also told them he had read the American treaty with Corea signed by Commodore Schofield in 1881, which makes America practically the attorney of Corea. So the little Coreans statted for Washington to get the sanction of the Corean Legation.

He has a dress uniform on the Tacoma, however, upon which the Japanese will come here to-morrow, and from the Tacoma the Admiral hopes for much. His idea is to connect with that uniform, to-morrow before the luncheon begins on the Mayflower.

JAP NAVAL OFFICER SAILS. Kamimura Goes to Take Over Cruise Building in England.

Commander O. Kamimura of the Japanese Navy sailed yesterday on the Celtic. He is going to Barrow, England, to superintend the completion of the cruiser Tokiva, which is being built there for Japan.

The warship will not be completed for a ear, and the Commander said yesterday that he thought the war would be over by then, so he can take his ship away when she is ready. Kamimura was in command of the cruiser Tokiwara in the battle with Rojestvensky's fleet.
